

Akinsola Solanke

Akinsola Solanke is a Unity student in Nigeria, West Africa. He found Unity through Daily Word[®] and Silent Unity. He has read many Unity books, including several Books by Charles Fillmore, H. Emilie Cady, and Eric Butterworth. He has also facilitated several Unity books discussion groups over the years and organized prayer retreats. He is the founder of a WhatsApp prayer support group, Unity-online Prayer Support Network (UPSNet), that has a membership of over 80 people, and has a very strong Internet presence. He is very knowledgeable in Information technology and has been a great asset in helping Unity ministers and students in many countries in Africa navigate the worldwide web of the Internet.

Akinsola has made several attempts to earn credits towards becoming a credentialed Unity leader, but the high cost of tuition has been a hindrance to achieving his goal. He wants to take advantage of the Sponsorship Program to realize his goal of serving humanity as an ordained Unity minister.

If he receives the sponsorship, Akinsola will be ready to begin taking SEE classes for credit at Unity National School UK. He owns a computer and is comfortable with taking classes online. However, he will need a printer and some support with stationery, ink, and other accessories.
