Course Description

The Quantum Living Process weaves together scientific research with the wisdom of the world’s mystical traditions, to offer a powerful path to personal transformation. During this 6-week elective course, students will experience powerful exercises, video presentations, meaningful discussion, thought-provoking reading assignments and a transformative 21-Day practice.

Students will practice self-regulation tools along with “aware-apy” exercises and techniques designed to reduce anxiety, and to foster a raised degree of self-awareness, self-compassion, emotional resiliency, and an increased efficacy in both meeting one’s own needs and taking authentic action that embodies positive change.

The primary aim of The Quantum Living Process is to equip participants to use a self-directed 21-day process to explore triggering or challenging moments in order to awaken to unconscious cultural/social programming set in motion in early childhood, and often still operating by default. By uncovering and transforming unconscious, limiting patterns of thought, feeling, and behavior, the way opens for heart-centered evolutionary transformation.
